

Road to Healthy Lifestyle Habits

Health and safety go hand in hand. They are learned behaviors and both affect your quality of life on and off the job. Make a commitment to start developing good habits to improve your health. Here are some tips that will help put you on the path to becoming a healthier driver. Come on ... get moving!!

Make healthier eating choices a priority! This is challenging but it can be done! Try and stay away from junk food like potato chips, candy, cookies, etc. and fast food restaurants. These are loaded with sugary calories that do nothing but pile on calories and weight. Try unsalted nuts, low-fat yogurt, low-fat crackers and cheese. Fresh fruit and vegetables are also great options. If you are eating at a restaurant, cut the portion in half for a later meal or eat from the "light" menu and choose grilled options versus fried.

Drink more water!! It helps you feel full, improves circulation, boosts your energy and makes you feel more hydrated. Stay away from soda, which is full of sugar and calories, which can lead to serious health issues and contribute to excessive weight.

Get plenty of rest! You need sleep to rest and repair your body and mind, which is essential to good health. Try to read or work on a puzzle book when you're in the sleeper. This can help keep your mind fit and may also aid in getting better sleep.

Quit smoking! Making an attempt to quit smoking can drastically decrease your risk of heart attacks, strokes and several forms of cancer.

Exercise as much as you can! Walking is a simple and safe way to burn calories and exercise. Even if you only walk for 15 minutes, you will feel energized and focused. You should also stretch when get out of the cab. This will help with stiff muscles and joints and will assist with complete blood flow after long periods of sitting. Remember that any activity is better than no activity.

Living healthy on the road is challenging, but not impossible. Start slow and set 1 or 2 goals and then continue to build on them. A healthier driver is a safer driver!

New Employee

This month Bobby Landon joined our Operations team. Bobby will be dispatching and taking on more responsibilities as he becomes familiar with our system. He comes to us with a background in trucks and a great work ethic. Please be patient with him as he learns our system and everyone's name. Please stop in and introduce yourself to Bobby and welcome him to the team.
